EXECUTIVE AGENT QUINCY WARD DOING GREAT WORK.

Every law-abiding and law-respecting sportsman in Bourbon County will heartily approve of the following, from the Richmond Register: "State Game Warden Quincy Ward, has been stocking many streams of the State with fish from the Government, of late, and the sportsmen of the State will have another chance to enjoy the sport that has for years been one of the greatest in the country in Kentucky. In recent years though, the seine, the gig and dynamite, have almost wrecked the streams, and an effort is now being made to regain, if possible, the lost sport. Every fisherman in the State should see to it that the new game laws are strictly adhered to, and all violators prosecuted. There seems to be a determined effort on the part of the fishermen, as never before, to aid the State Commissioner in replenishing the streams of this county with game fish."

Finds Father After Fifty Years.

Wilmore—Wilmore residents are listening to another tale of separations of families in war times in the South, and the finding of the long missing, John Lee, a negro, 75 years old, of Shaker Head, Mercer County, after searching 50 years, found his father, more than a 100 years old, living at Dayton, O. The father had enlisted in a Northern army in the Civil War, and had been believed to be dead by every one except his son.

Grandfather's Clock.

Harrodsburg—B. F. Smart, of Mercer County, has an old-time wooden "grandfather's" clock, which has been in the family for 125 years. It is a correct timepiece, and also gives changes of the moon, days of the week and days of the month.

The old clock was once the property of Mercer Daniel, one of the early settlers of the county, and has been handed down from father to son. It is now in the possession of B. F. Smart, great-grandchild of Mercer Daniel. It bids fair to make another century run.

TRACTION COMPANY ADOPTS NEW RATE SCHEDULE.

Beginning on June 20, the Kentucky Traction & Terminal Company will establish an entirely new schedule of rates upon its interurban lines centering in Lexington, the new rates being made to conform to the two and a half cent rate law passed by the last session of the General Assembly. This law has been construed to apply to interurbans as well as steam roads, the latter having already taken steps to put the new rate into effect and the same time.

The most significant feature of the new change rates is that it will entirely abolish the old five-cent fare zones, and fare points, the minimum rate as provided in the new law, being ten cents.

This will affect a large number of interurban patrons living within two miles of Lexington, Paris, Versailles and Georgetown, who have up to this time been enjoying the advantage of a five-cent interurban service.

Outside of the increase in the minimum fare from five to ten cents the most marked change affecting local patrons of the interurban service is rates from Paris, Lexington, Versailles and Georgetown. The rate to these places is raised five cents in each direction. The rate from Paris to Lexington will be forty-five cents instead of forty cents, as at present. The special rates to Blue Grass Park from Lexington and other points effective as summer round trip excursions will not be changed. The rate from Paris to the Country Club, 35 also remains unchanged.

The building, used as a newspaper office, was formerly occupied by a bank and the money was hidden in an old vault. Since the editor's death other small amounts have been found, the total aggregating $1,000.

Vale, Tango!

High Bridge—Dr. H. C. Morrison, President of Ashby College, at Wilmore, three miles from High Bridge, censors papers and magazines so that they will be safe reading for his charges. It is said that he recently tore from an Eastern publication a double page in colors advertising a talking machine in which dancers of the tango were shown.

Receipts For State Employees.

LEXINGTON MAN IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Benjamin Combs, of the Ten Broeck Tire & Rubbe Co., Lexington, was painfully hurt in a motorcycle accident near Paris, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Combs and B. J. Rogers, of the Ten Broeck Company, came to Paris on a business trip, and while approaching the Langston bridge, near Paris, Mr. Combs had a bad spill, in which he sustained a number of severe cuts and bruises, and in addition, there is some fear that his knee cap was fractured.

The accident was caused by the front wheel of his machine dropping into a chuch hole at the end of the bridge, twisting the wheel out of the rider's hands, and throwing him some thirty feet clear of the machine, which was more or less damaged.

Mr. Combs was taken to Lexington Sunday night on an interurban car, and his injuries are said to be very serious.
